

HELP SHAPE STUDENT WELFARE AT OXFORD

Sign up to hear about opportunities to contribute to student welfare projects and policies at the University.

JOIN THE STUDENT WELFARE ENGAGEMENT NETWORK

What it is: A pilot student welfare engagement network run by Student Welfare & Support Services.

Who can join: Any University of Oxford student (undergraduate and postgraduate) who is interested in shaping Oxford's student welfare policies, strategies, projects and student communications. No experience or training necessary!

What you will do: Co-create and influence meaningful change around University-wide student welfare strategies, mandatory student trainings, student communications, and more.

How often: You will hear from us up to twice a month with opt-in opportunities—you can join what fits your time, experiences and interests. Opt-out of the network at any time.

Why join: You will be able to influence change in SWSS, connect with staff & peers, and gain valuable volunteer and paid experience (for your CV!).
