

MSc Health Data Science

University of Liverpool

Autumn 2023 intake

Applications are now open for the Autumn 2023 intake for the MSc in Health Data Science, University of Liverpool.

We are happy to announce that two scholarships are available from the Department of Health Data Science for students of the Autumn 2023 intake of the MSc Health Data Science programme.

For UK students, the tuition fees of £10,850 are being paid by the scholarship.

For international students, tuition fees are partially being paid by the scholarship, to a maximum of £10,850.

Scholarships will be awarded to candidates who have secured a place on the MSc on the basis of merit, with the intention of attracting and supporting talented individuals.
