

MSc Health Data Science

University of Liverpool

Scholarships Available

We are happy to announce that two scholarships are available from the Department of Health Data Science for the Autumn 2023 intake on the MSc Health Data Science, University of Liverpool.

For UK students, the tuition fees of £10,850 are being paid by the scholarship. For international students, tuition fees are partially being paid by the scholarship, to a maximum of £10,850

Scholarships will be awarded to candidates who have secured a place on the MSc on the basis of merit, with the intention of attracting and supporting talented individuals.

To apply, please submit your CV and a brief supporting statement (no longer than 750 words), outlining

- 1) why you should receive a scholarship to study on this programme*
- 2) your past achievements in academic and professional activities relevant to the MSc programme*
- 3) your data science experience to date and any future career plans*

You should be prepared to provide documentary evidence in support of the statement. Submissions should be sent to Prof Ruwanthi Kolamunnage-Dona (kdr@liverpool.ac.uk) and Dr Richard Jackson (richj23@liverpool.ac.uk) by 17.00 on 31st May 2023

