Additional information

This is a full-time position that cannot be held concurrently with any other substantive post without the explicit permission of the Head of Department.

This post is subject to a three-month probationary period.

This post may also be offered as a secondment opportunity.

The role

This is a key position within the HR Team and the department as a whole, as you will be responsible for the day to day running of our recruitment processes. You will ensure that each recruitment process is managed efficiently, and will deliver an excellent level of customer service to recruiting managers and applicants.

We run a large number of exercises for academic, research and professional services roles, and you will manage these processes end to end: starting with vacancy approval, throughout the recruitment and selection process to the offer of appointment, and then continuing with onboarding and meeting the successful candidate on their first day for induction. You will need to be exceptionally well organised and have fine attention to detail in order to keep concurrent exercises moving forward efficiently, plus the large number of applications we receive can add significant complexity to the processes we follow. You will be a really effective communicator – keeping managers up to date, liaising with candidates and ensuring that our new staff have a great start with us.

We are looking for someone who really enjoys recruitment, we aim to deliver a top candidate experience while supporting managers to recruit the best talent. You will report to the Senior HR Officer and work closely with the HR Assistant and HR Apprentice.

Maternity (or other family) leave cover post
This post is to cover the absence of a member of the HR and Faculty Services team, who is taking a period of maternity leave. The post is available until 31st August 2023 or the actual return of the named postholder, or the resignation of the named postholder and employment of a new postholder, whichever is the earliest.

Responsibilities

- Advise managers, colleagues and candidates by telephone, email and face to face; answering questions, and undertaking research and interpreting procedures to answer more complex queries as appropriate
- Operationally manage the HR Assistant and HR Apprentice, day to day, in respect of recruitment administration and duties, for example ensuring arrangements are made for shortlisting meetings and interviews (booking meeting rooms, setting up equipment, escorting candidates, etc)
- Act as the primary point contact for all departmental recruitment processes. Manage the complex administration of a high number of recruitment exercises. Carefully plan and co-ordinate the department’s advertising, shortlisting and interview schedules to meet panel members' competing demands, while being mindful of the HR Team's capacity
- Support Senior HR Officer to seek out, develop and implement service and process improvements
- Work closely with the Finance Team to ensure funding is in place for posts prior to advertising, advising managers accordingly
- Work with managers to design effective job advertisements and job descriptions ensuring that they comply with University guidance, UKVI regulations and best practice. Advise on advertising placement and time frames as appropriate for the role and the department’s recruitment schedule
- Liaise with the Staff Immigration Team as necessary to ensure the department is compliant with advertising requirements
- Organise and attend shortlisting meetings, taking notes and advising as necessary
- Organise interviews, liaising with panel members, candidates, and colleges (in the case of joint appointments)
- Correspond with candidates and panel members throughout the recruitment process, communicating status updates to all parties
- Monitor and manage all vacancies and applications on the University’s e-recruitment system CoreHR, running reports as necessary.
- Accurately maintain all confidential files in relation to recruitment.
- Prepare monthly personnel and recruitment reports for team meetings and for input into departmental committee papers
- Prepare standard letters of appointment and contracts and ensure relevant right to work documentation, Occupational Health and ID checks are completed
• Carry out induction sessions for new staff
• To be responsible for all recruitment information on the Department’s personnel web pages
• Liaise with a wide range of staff at all levels, developing successful working relationships with academic and support staff colleagues across the department and in the wider University
• Other tasks as requested by the Senior HR Officer or Head of Faculty Services & HR according to operational needs

Selection criteria

Essential
• Experience of working in a busy Recruitment role
• Excellent and engaging communication skills, verbal and written, including the ability to clearly explain procedures
• Excellent organisational skills, including a proven ability to prioritise workload and juggle competing demands.
• Very strong attention to detail, with a demonstrable ability to produce accurate, detailed work within strict deadlines
• Experience of providing a high level of customer service
• Engaged attitude with a passion for recruitment
• Experience of relevant administrative work including ability to use Microsoft Office and email
• Ability to work independently and as part of a team
• Awareness of legal frameworks relevant to recruitment (for example GDPR, Home Office requirements – training will be given)

Desirable
• Experience of working with an oracle-based HR system
• Experience using Social Media tools – LinkedIn/Facebook/Twitter/Instagram

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks
If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University’s pre-employment screening procedures at: https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/pre-employment-checks

About the University of Oxford
Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford’s researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual’s unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe's most entrepreneurial universities and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, and in recent years we have spun out 15-20 new companies every year. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford.

The Mathematical Institute

The Mathematical Institute, as Oxford’s Department of Mathematics is known, is one of the leading mathematics departments in the world. Our mathematical research, impact and environment have twice been ranked first in the UK, in the 2021 and 2014 Research Excellence Framework exercises, a government review of research in all UK universities. The Mathematical Institute is the focus of research into both fundamental mathematics and its applications, and our inclusive nature and overall size are key factors in the provision of an outstanding research environment for our members. The large number of faculty, postdocs and students in the Mathematical Institute, all supported by excellent facilities, allows us to maintain a critical mass in research groups encompassing a wide spectrum of mathematics, while our integrated nature fosters collaboration between fields. We also host a large number of academic visitors. Our web pages (www.maths.ox.ac.uk) provide comprehensive information about all of our activities.

The research activities of the Institute as a whole can be gauged from the web pages of the research groups and centres within the Institute (www.maths.ox.ac.uk/research). The range of our research interests is well reflected by the profile of our faculty as listed at www.maths.ox.ac.uk/people. Many members of the Institute have received prestigious prizes and other special recognition for their work; some recent examples can be found at www.maths.ox.ac.uk/news.

The Mathematical Institute moved into the purpose-built Andrew Wiles Building in the University's Radcliffe Observatory Quarter in September 2013. As well as providing offices for all staff and graduate students, it houses a range of other facilities available to members of the department, including the Whitehead Library, a large range of meeting rooms, teaching spaces, lecture rooms, and social spaces, and a small laboratory for carrying out table-top experiments. For more information, see www.maths.ox.ac.uk/about-us.

Teaching is central to the life of the Mathematical Institute and we have around 900 undergraduates on course, some on joint courses with other departments. We teach around 250 students each year across five taught master's degree courses, and have over 250 doctoral students in residence at any one time. Our doctoral programme always attracts the best research students from across the world, and we have a broad mentoring and training programme.

The Mathematical Institute strives to ensure that all staff and students are given the opportunities and support they need to achieve their potential. We are committed to equality of opportunities and to advancing women’s careers. We support staff returning from long-term absence with teaching relief, offer flexible working arrangements, and the department sponsors University nursery places to support the priority allocation of childcare to our staff. Further information about family support can be found below under University Benefits, Terms and Conditions. Our Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Committee contributes to many aspects of our work.

As part of the department’s commitment to openness, inclusivity and transparency, we strongly encourage applications from all who consider they meet the requirements of the post, and particularly from women and ethnic minorities.

We have a number of family-friendly policies, such as the right to apply for flexible working, hybrid working, and support for staff returning from periods of extended absence. We are committed to ensuring an inclusive interview process and will reimburse up to £250 towards any additional care costs (for a dependent child or adult) incurred as a result of attending an interview for this position, which may not be applicable if the interviews are held remotely.

For more information on the Mathematical Institute, please visit: www.maths.ox.ac.uk

The Mathematical Institute holds a silver Athena Swan award to recognise advancement of gender equality: representation, progression and success for all.

The Mathematical, Physical, and Life Sciences Division

The Mathematical, Physical, and Life Sciences (MPLS) Division is one of the four academic divisions of the University. In the results of the six-yearly UK-wide assessment of university research, REF2014, the MPLS division received the highest overall grade point average (GPA) and the highest GPA for outputs. We received the highest proportion of 4* outputs, and the highest proportion of 4* activity overall. More than 50 per cent of MPLS activity was assessed as world leading.

The MPLS Division’s 10 departments and 3 interdisciplinary units span the full spectrum of the mathematical, computational, physical, engineering and life sciences, and undertake both fundamental research and cutting-edge applied work. Our research addresses major societal and technological challenges and is increasingly focused on key interdisciplinary issues. MPLS is proud to be the home of some of the most creative and innovative scientific thinkers and leaders working in academe. We have a strong tradition of attracting and nurturing the very best early career researchers who regularly secure prestigious fellowships.

We have around 6,000 students and play a major role in training the next generation of leading scientists. Oxford's international reputation for excellence in teaching is reflected in its position at the top of the major league tables and subject assessments.

MPLS is dedicated to bringing the wonder and potential of science to the attention of audiences far beyond the world of academia. We have a strong commitment to supporting public engagement in science through initiatives including the Oxford Sparks portal (http://www.oxfordsparks.net/) and a large variety of outreach activities. We also endeavour to bring the potential of our scientific efforts forward for practical and beneficial application to the real world and our desire is to link our best scientific minds with industry and public policy makers.

For more information about the MPLS division, please visit: http://www.mpls.ox.ac.uk/

1 The Mathematical Institute was a founding supporter of the London Mathematical Society’s Good Practice Scheme (www.lms.ac.uk/women/good-practice-scheme). We have held an Athena SWAN Silver Award since 2016.
How to Apply

Applications are made through our e-recruitment system and you will find all the information you need about how to apply on our Jobs website https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/how-to-apply.

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

As part of your application you will be asked to provide details of two referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants).

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename, quoting the vacancy reference 160016.

All applications must be received by 12.00 noon UK time on Wednesday 21st September 2022.

Interviews are anticipated to take place in the week commencing Monday 3rd October 2022.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing department(s). If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments).

DATA PROTECTION: All data supplied by applicants will be used only for the purposes of determining their suitability for the post, and will be held in accordance with the principles of the Data Protection Act 1998 and the department’s data protection policy. https://www.maths.ox.ac.uk/members/policies/data-protection/statement

Due to the large volume of recruitment that the department administers we are unable to provide feedback to non-shortlisted applicants.

The University’s policy on retirement

The University operates an Employer Justified Retirement Age (EJRA) for all academic posts and some academic-related posts. The University has adopted an EJRA of 30 September before the 69th birthday for all academic and academic-related staff in posts at grade 8 and above. The justification for this is explained at: https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/the-ejra

For existing employees, any employment beyond the retirement age is subject to approval through the procedures: https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/the-ejra

There is no normal or fixed age at which staff in posts at grades 1–7 have to retire. Staff at these grades may elect to retire in accordance with the rules of the applicable pension scheme, as may be amended from time to time.

Equality of opportunity

Entry into employment with the University and progression within employment will be determined only by personal merit and the application of criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post and the relevant salary structure. In all cases, ability to perform the job will be the primary consideration. No applicant or member of staff shall be discriminated against because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation.
Benefits of working at the University

Employee benefits

University employees enjoy 38 days’ paid holiday, generous pension schemes, travel discounts, and a variety of professional development opportunities. Our range of other employee benefits and discounts also includes free entry to the Botanic Gardens and University colleges, and discounts at University museums. See https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/staff-benefits

University Club and sports facilities

Membership of the University Club is free for all University staff. The University Club offers social, sporting, and hospitality facilities. Staff can also use the University Sports Centre on Iffley Road at discounted rates, including a fitness centre, powerlifting room, and swimming pool. See www.club.ox.ac.uk and https://www.sport.ox.ac.uk/.

Information for staff new to Oxford

If you are relocating to Oxfordshire from overseas or elsewhere in the UK, the University's Welcome Service website includes practical information about settling in the area, including advice on relocation, accommodation, and local schools. See https://welcome.ox.ac.uk/
There is also a visa loan scheme to cover the costs of UK visa applications for staff and their dependents. See https://staffimmigration.admin.ox.ac.uk/visa-loan-scheme

Family-friendly benefits

With one of the most generous family leave schemes in the Higher Education sector, and a range of flexible working options, Oxford aims to be a family-friendly employer. We also subscribe to My Family Care, a service that provides practical advice and support for employees who have caring responsibilities. The service offers a free telephone advice line, and the ability to book emergency back-up care for children, adult dependents and elderly relatives. See https://hr.admin.ox.ac.uk/my-family-care

The University has excellent childcare services, including five University nurseries as well as University-supported places at many other private nurseries.

For full details, including how to apply and the costs, see https://childcare.admin.ox.ac.uk/

Disabled staff

We are committed to supporting members of staff with disabilities or long-term health conditions. For further details, including information about how to make contact, in confidence, with the University’s Staff Disability Advisor, see https://edu.admin.ox.ac.uk/disability-support

Staff networks

The University has a number of staff networks including the Oxford Research Staff Society, BME staff network, LGBT+ staff network and a disabled staff network. You can find more information at https://edu.admin.ox.ac.uk/networks
