

MATHEMATICAL INSTITUTE
ANDREW WILES BUILDING

Job Description and Selection Criteria

Job title	Project Manager
Division	Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences
Department	Mathematical Institute
Location	Andrew Wiles Building, Radcliffe Observatory Quarter, Woodstock Road, Oxford, OX2 6GG.
Grade and salary	Grade 7: £39,424 - £47,779 p.a., (incl. Oxford University weighting)
Hours	Full time although the department will be willing to appoint at 80% FTE spread over a minimum of four days a week
Contract type	Fixed-term 12 months - 11 May 2026 to 07 May 2027. (Maternity cover)
Reporting to	Admissions and Outreach Coordinator
Vacancy reference	185269

The role

The Mathematical Institute at the University of Oxford has launched a new project to mentor students for GCSE Mathematics, called Oxford Unbounded. We will work directly with identified schools to support KS4 students to reach the very top grades in GCSE Mathematics or equivalent, by providing a sustained programme of resources and online mentoring. In particular, we will focus on students on track to achieve at least a grade 7 in GCSE Mathematics who have the potential to achieve a grade 8 or 9. The pilot is due to start in June 2026, with a residential visit to Oxford for the students on the pilot programme in April 2027. The full-scale programme is due to start in June 2027.

We're looking for an enthusiastic and detail-oriented person who can develop administrative procedures for this new project during the pilot phase, lead the implementation as we reach out to schools, manage the project including the residential, and plan for the full-scale programme.

The post-holder will be responsible for the administration (including safeguarding) for the project. This will include communication with various stakeholders, including contacts at schools with a significant proportion of students with characteristics identified in the University's Access and Participation Plan. The post-holder will also recruit and train mentors, and coordinate the regular online mentoring sessions. The post-holder will be responsible for monitoring the budget and tracking casual payroll submissions, and for budgeting some other expenses. The work may include some weekend or evening hours.

Together with the Outreach Learning Design and Content Coordinator, the Project Manager will take a leadership role for the project, shaping the vision for the programme, and being an ambassador for the work of the project.

The Project Manager will work alongside the rest of the outreach team in the Mathematical Institute, including the Admissions and Outreach Coordinator (line manager for this role), the Outreach Administrator (responsible for the administration of other projects), and the Academic Lead for Undergraduate Admissions and Outreach (a faculty member with oversight of outreach).

Maternity leave cover post

This post is to cover the absence of the substantive postholder, who is taking a period of maternity leave. The post is available until 07 May 2027 or the actual return of the substantive postholder, or the resignation of the substantive postholder and employment of a new postholder, whichever is the earliest. This role is also offered as a secondment opportunity to professionals within the University of Oxford.

Responsibilities

Project Management

- Develop operating procedures for the project.
- Manage project timelines, milestones, and deadlines to ensure successful delivery.
- Take initiative to improve process, or develop new process, in response to, or in anticipation of, potential issues.
- Monitor budgets and report on expenditure via casual payroll.
- Act as Designated Safeguarding Lead for the project.
- Champion the work of the project and shape the vision.

Communication and Collaboration

- Coordinate the recruitment and appropriate selection of mentors, working with other departments, the MPLS division, and academic faculty, as appropriate.
- Organise and facilitate training sessions for mentors, including induction, safeguarding training, and ongoing professional support.
- Establish and maintain effective communication channels with all stakeholders, e.g. schools, students, their parents/guardians, and internal Oxford colleagues.
- Coordinate with schools to identify and enrol eligible students, ensuring clear understanding of programme objectives and expectations.
- Respond promptly and effectively to queries from stakeholders.

Administration

- Track student attendance, engagement, and participation, proactively addressing any attendance or engagement concerns.
- Monitor project outcomes, including student progress, attendance rates, and mentor performance, ensuring accurate record-keeping.
- Compile and analyse attendance and outcome data to produce regular project reports, and evaluations for internal and external stakeholders.
- Identify opportunities for programme improvement and recommend adjustments based on feedback and outcome data.
- Act as the Designated Safeguarding Lead for the project, ensure compliance with the University's safeguarding policies and relevant legislation.
- Ensure all mentors have completed appropriate safeguarding checks and training.

Other tasks

- Alongside the rest of the outreach team, assist in delivery of some outreach events.
- Any other tasks commensurate with the grade, as directed by the Admissions and Outreach Coordinator or Head of Administration and Finance.

Selection criteria

Your application will be judged only against the criteria which are set out below. You should ensure that your application shows clearly how your skills and experience meet these criteria.

The Selection Committee for this process is expected to comprise;

- Dr James Munro (Chair, Admissions and Outreach Coordinator)
- Emma Harte (HR Manager)
- Sarah Baldwin (Undergraduate Admissions and Outreach Manager at Department of Computer Science)

The University is committed to fairness, consistency and transparency in selection decisions. Members of the selection committee are aware of the principles of equality of opportunity, fair selection and the risks of bias.

If, for any reason, you have taken a career break, parental leave or have had an atypical career and wish to disclose this in your application, the selection committee will take this into account, recognising that the quantity of your experience may be reduced as a result.

Essential selection criteria

1. Educated to degree level or equivalent.
2. Experience coordinating or managing educational or outreach projects, or similar.
3. Organisational skills, including ability to set deadlines and manage time effectively.
4. Ability to take initiative to proactively solve problems.
5. Demonstrable experience of assimilating complex information and ideas quickly and the ability to communicate accurately and effectively in verbal or written English.
6. Demonstrable experience of working independently as well as part of a wider team to achieve objectives.
7. Awareness of UK educational context at KS4, including an understanding of possible barriers to success for high-potential students.
8. Knowledge/experience of safeguarding responsibility.
9. Commitment to widening participation, access, and outreach.
10. Use of Microsoft Office at an “advanced” level (using Excel, Word, PowerPoint), including use of mail merge.

Desirable selection criteria

1. Experience of working in an academic environment.
2. Experience of working with KS4 students or equivalent.

Pre-employment screening

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures at: <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/pre-employment-checks>

Additional security pre-employment check

This job includes duties that will require additional security pre-employment checks:

A satisfactory enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service check due to regulated activity involving children.

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford's researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual's unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe's most entrepreneurial universities and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, and in recent years we have spun out 15-20 new companies every year. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford.

The Mathematical Institute

The Mathematical Institute, as Oxford's Department of Mathematics is known, is one of the leading mathematics departments in the world. Our mathematical research, impact and environment have twice been ranked first in the UK, in the 2021 and 2014 Research Excellence Framework exercises, a government review of research in all UK universities. The Mathematical Institute is the focus of research into both fundamental mathematics and its applications, and our inclusive nature and overall size are key factors in the provision of an outstanding research environment for our members. The large number of faculty, postdocs and students in the Mathematical Institute, all supported by excellent facilities, allows us to maintain a critical mass in research groups encompassing a wide spectrum of mathematics, while our integrated nature fosters collaboration between fields. We also host a large number of academic visitors. Our web pages (www.maths.ox.ac.uk) provide comprehensive information about all of our activities.

The research activities of the Institute as a whole can be gauged from the web pages of the research groups and centres within the Institute (www.maths.ox.ac.uk/research). The range of our research interests is well reflected by the profile of our faculty as listed at www.maths.ox.ac.uk/people. Many members of the Institute have received prestigious prizes and other special recognition for their work; some recent examples can be found at www.maths.ox.ac.uk/news.

The Mathematical Institute moved into the purpose-built Andrew Wiles Building in the University's Radcliffe Observatory Quarter in September 2013. As well as providing offices for all staff and graduate students, it houses a range of other facilities available to members of the department, including the Whitehead Library, a large range of meeting rooms, teaching spaces, lecture rooms, and social spaces, and a small laboratory for carrying out table-top experiments. For more information, see www.maths.ox.ac.uk/about-us.

Teaching is central to the life of the Mathematical Institute and we have around 900 undergraduates on course, some on joint courses with other departments. We teach around 250 students each year across five taught master's degree courses, and have over 250 doctoral students in residence at any one time. Our doctoral programme always attracts the best research students from across the world, and we have a broad mentoring and training programme.

The Mathematical Institute strives to ensure that all staff and students are given the opportunities and support they need to achieve their potential. We are committed to equality of opportunities and to advancing women's careers. We support staff returning from long-term absence with teaching relief, offer flexible working arrangements, and the department sponsors University nursery places to support the priority allocation of childcare to our staff. Further information about family support can be found below under University Benefits, Terms and Conditions. Our Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Committee¹ contributes to many aspects of our work.

As part of the department's commitment to openness, inclusivity and transparency, we strongly encourage applications from all who consider they meet the requirements of the post, and particularly from women and ethnic minorities.

We have a number of family-friendly policies, such as the right to apply for flexible working, hybrid working, and support for staff returning from periods of extended absence. We are committed to ensuring an inclusive interview process and will reimburse up to £250 towards any additional care costs (for a dependent child or adult) incurred as a result of attending an interview for this position, which may not be applicable if the interviews are held remotely.

We proudly hold a departmental Athena SWAN Silver Award and an institutional Race Equality Charter Bronze Award.

The Mathematical, Physical, and Life Sciences Division

Oxford is widely regarded as one of the world's leading science universities, and the University's Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences (MPLS) Division sits at the heart of this reputation. It offers an outstanding environment for research, teaching, and innovation across the mathematical, computational, physical, engineering, and life sciences. As one of the four academic divisions of the University of Oxford, encompassing nine academic departments, a Doctoral Training Centre and Begbroke Science Park, it provides a collaborative, interdisciplinary community with a vibrant network of leading researchers and educators.

The division's research outputs, environment, and impact are consistently recognised at the highest levels, both nationally and internationally. MPLS departments regularly appear at the top of global league tables, including the Times Higher Education and QS World Rankings. Our strong performances in the UK Research Excellence Framework in both 2014 and 2021 also highlight the quality and impact of our work. These achievements reflect not only our academic excellence but also the strong networks we foster—with industrial partners, policymakers, and global research institutions.

Our vibrant research environment continues to evolve with major new investments in infrastructure. The Life and Mind Building, the University's largest-ever building project, is now close to completion/opened in 2025. It provides purpose-built facilities for the Departments of ¹ The Mathematical Institute was a founding supporter of the London Mathematical Society's Good Practice Scheme (www.lms.ac.uk/women/good-practice-scheme). We have held an Athena SWAN Silver Award since 2016.

Experimental Psychology and Biology in inspiring spaces designed to foster collaboration and brings together researchers working on some of the most pressing questions in life sciences and human behaviour. The striking new Andrew Wiles Building houses our Mathematical Institute next to the Schwarzman Humanities Building, and the Beecroft on the edge of University Parks has provided a transformative home for our physicists. Current plans include significant investment to expand our interdisciplinary research and innovation support facilities at Begbroke Science Park and to transform Osney Mead, to the west of the city centre, into a dynamic innovation district, further strengthening Oxford's position as a world leader in science, technology, and enterprise.

MPLS provides a supportive and inclusive environment for academics at every career stage, from all over the world. The Division has a strong tradition of securing prestigious fellowships and supporting researchers as they progress to leadership roles. We are proud of our diverse community and every department holds an Athena Swan Award.

For educators, Oxford's tutorial system offers an unparalleled opportunity to engage with talented students and contribute to one of the world's most respected teaching systems. The division plays a central role in shaping the future of science through its graduate programmes, with over 3,500 postgraduate students receiving rigorous training and mentorship across MPLS departments.

For more information about the MPLS Division and the dedicated professional support it provides to academics across the sciences, please visit: <http://www.mpls.ox.ac.uk>

How to Apply

Applications are made through our e-recruitment system and you will find all the information you need about how to apply on our Jobs website <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/how-to-apply>.

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

As part of your application you will be asked to provide details of two referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants)

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename.

All applications must be received by midday UK time on the closing date stated in the online advertisement.

Information for internal candidates

If you currently work at the University please note that:

- as part of the referencing process, we will contact your current department to confirm basic employment details including reason for leaving and information about your performance.
- although employees may hold multiple part-time posts, they may not hold more than the equivalent of a full-time post. If you are offered this post, and accepting it would take you over the equivalent of full-time hours, you will be expected to resign from, or reduce hours in, your other posts(s) before starting work in the new post. Before applying for this post, you are advised to read the Internal Mobility Principles. The principles promote good practice for moving into professional services roles, and are designed to provide clarity on expectations for managers and individuals.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing department(s). If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments).
